NO. 1

WILLIAMSBURG, WHITLEY COUNTY.

Your correspondent visited Corbin and Woodbine Saturday. Corbin is certainly the boom town of Eastern Kentucky at present.

The fishing season for suckers has opened and the fishermen are having quite a good time now. Fred Davis caught a sucker a few days ago that weighed five pounds.

J. C. Mahan visited his father at Pleasant View, last week. M. A. Moore, our sheriff, was in Lohsville a few days ago. Rev. W. J. Warder, D. D., of Louisville, spent Friday night with Dr. A. Gatlin.

Mrs. J. T. Freeman and daughter, Miss Nellie, leave on an extended western visit in a few days. J. A. Butler, of the A. & M. College, Lexington, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends here. Hon. C. W. Lester has been a grip victim, but is out on the streets again. T. E. B. Siler, of Jellico, was here Saturday. Dr. C. A. Cox gave us a call last week.

The Smithsonian Literary Society gave an open session at the court-house last Friday evening. The house was crowded and the very best attention was given to the young people, who acquitted themselves with credit to the school they represent. We could not do them justice if we should attempt to say something of each piece. We have two schools here that have about 300 pupils each and the teachers say they never saw boys and girls more anxious to obtain an education than the boys and girls they now have under their control.

CURCH AFFAIRS.

Bishop Thomas U. Dudley will preach in the College chapel to-night.

Rev. T. B. Cook had 45 additions at his meeting at Linndale, Garrard county.

The result of Elder S. M. Martin's six weeks' meeting at Richmond, Mo., was 112 additions to the Christian church.

John D. Rockefeller, the Standard oil magnate, gave $1,000,000 in 5 per cent gold bonds, with accrued interest, to the University of Chicago in order to show "his thanks to God for his returning health." There are not many of us able to show our gratitude so bountifully.

Rev. J. M. Evans returned to his home in Maysville Feb. 23d. He had been in West Virginia preaching since Jan. 5th. He preached 95 times and 175 came forward to express an interest on the subject of religion, 128 of whom united with the Presbyterian church, and most of the rest with other churches.—Paris, Kentucky.

Rev. George O. Barnes writes to Mrs. W. G. Welch from New Orleans that he and the troupe are enjoying a visit at Will's cottage and that he has the "sweetest baby in the world," which will be hard to spoil if two doting grand-parents and two maiden aunts fail to do it. Mr. Barnes is undecided about a meeting in New Orleans, but will try to hold one. His address is Henry Clay Avenue, cor. St. David street.

The Lexington Leader tells the story of Rev. S. W. Peoples' difficulties in building Methodist church at Middlesboro. When the house was ready for the roof a Baptist cyclone came along and blew down part of the walls. He went to work and raised them again when a Presbyterian cyclone hopped over Mingo Mountain and leveled them again. Bro. Peoples, when an Episcopalian friend called his attention to the fact that Providence seemed to be against the Methodists, replied, "Whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth," and again had the walls built up.

The Primary Election.

Following is the order of the committee, made Jan. 9:

A primary election to be held Saturday, March 5, 1892, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 6 p. m., is called to nominate democratic candidates for the offices of circuit court clerk and sheriff of Lincoln county. The election shall be held at the regular voting places in each precinct, except Stanford precincts 1 and 2 shall both vote at the Court-House. The voting shall be viva voce and the names and votes recorded in books to be provided for that purpose.

Democrats and minors of democratic proclivities, who will attain their majority by the November election, shall be entitled to vote. The officers of the election in the several precincts shall certify the result of the vote in the back of the poll-books and return the same to the county chairman by the following Monday, who shall associate with himself one or more members of the committee and count and declare the result of the vote. The officers of the election shall consist of two judges and a clerk in each precinct.

The meanest man that has yet shown up in Atlanta is the one who cut off his wife's hair while she was asleep and pawned it for whisky. This is one of the allegations made in a recent divorce suit.—Journal.

HUSTONVILLE.

Sam Rout sold a jack to John K. Baughman for $375 and bought a pair of fine mules for $225.

Monroe Morris, well-known in many localities where the L. J. is the church paper, as a sewing machine agent, is badly off his mental balance in consequence of a lick received on his head a few weeks ago.

The tax-gatherer compliments the West End as the banner precinct of the county, there being fewer delinquents, white and black, than in any other division of old Lincoln. It must not be taken as evidence of greater prosperity, simply innate "pride of character" and patriotism.

George Miller Givens got home from Atlanta last Saturday night, bearing the unmistakable externals of having been a hard worked man since he tackled the mule market. The most doleful Jeremiah would be serio-comic in contrast with his gloomy picture of the outlook for stock-feeders.

The many friends of Lee Currey, of Harrodsburg, has made here during his few visits as a commercial pilgrim, send warmest congratulations to the young Benedict. Mrs. Currey, nee Cordelia Taylor, was long a resident of Hustonville, and we all know that Lee, though a preeminent deserving boy, "has out-married himself."

Capt. Joe Huffman has gradually progressed from politician, merchant and lawyer to the high and noble vocation of sure enough farmer and the deft manner in which he can be seen daily swinging a grubbing hoe, or pick and shovel, is enough to convince a few of our chronic loafers that there is not only profit but an honor and a better appetite in maintaining a healthy condition of the respiratory apparatus.

We rejoice to report Elder W. L. Williams again able to resume his work. Squire L. B. Adams was abed last week, but is out again. James McKinney has taken the road in the interest of the Hustonville Roller Mill. Miss Naomi Forsythe returned to Harrodsburg Saturday. Miss Luie Riffe is at home from school at Lancaster on a short visit. Misses Sue Rector, Lizzie Carter, Mary Coffey and Mac Logan went to Louisville Sunday to hear Patti. One of the big girls is much grieved that she can't accompany the party to hear him.

Our many horsemen who patronized the Lexington combination sales are not rejoicing over happy and profitable experiences. Many sales fell wondrous short of offers declared at home; many declined best bids and brought their stock back, whilst others sold part and left the remainder. Tom Hunn's capacity to get around and talk a profitable buyer into a cataleptic state was a revelation to many of his old acquaintances who thought they accredited him his full merit as a hustler, but the verdict now is that Tom is a world-beater.

Mrs. J. P. Riffe and Mrs. T. L. Carpenter are visiting in Covington. Miss Bettie Butt has gone to Burmont, Kas., to spend a few months with relatives. Kal Brown showed up after a few days' absence at Louisville on business instead of having been kidnapped by some poor little Chili for about $2,000,000 for the injuries received by the drunken American sailors who brought on the row that came near precipitating a war with a sister republic. One of the sailors claims over a hundred thousand dollars for injuries he claims to have received and others a like sum. The testimony of an American minister of the gospel who recently returned to Louisville, and who was in Chili at the time of the row, is that Commander Schley acted very imprudently in allowing so many of his men to go on shore when a revolution was in progress. He says these men instigated the row and caused all the trouble.

What is the matter with the farmers' alliance? A member in Southern Kentucky is out in an open letter denouncing the organization a fraud so far as promises of cheap goods, machinery, etc., are concerned. He declares that he and others are out of pocket $300 each and their millennium of rosy promises no nearer realization than "when they first began." All he sees are a soft thing and fat salaries for a few grand lodges officers, whilst an analysis of diet on which the boys who furnish the "stuff" are being fed develops nothing but wind after the meringue has been scraped from the pie of promise.

The last week's weather enabled farmers to push work most rapidly and oats sowing is the order now with all who are not preparing for the corn crop. The ground is in splendid condition and plowing is a delight. Many of our city citizens have begun gardening, a few even risked Irish potatoes. John Reid and Jim Goode, two of the early birds, have lettuce, under canvas, which is represented nearly ready for the table. Dr. Brown's disgust with last year's experience in the horticultural line has led to his garden having been converted into an oats field, preliminary to its permanent transformation into a timothy meadow. His many friends will bear this in mind when contemplating a luxuriant garden which afforded a surplus.

It has been discovered by actual experiment that camphor trees flourish and grow rapidly in Florida. There are trees near Tampa as large as orange trees. The camphor from these trees is more like the gum from Japan than China. The odor from the leaf is like camphor. This will in a few years doubtless become an industry in our It-

CRAB ORCHARD.

Crab Orchard is rather gay at present. Immediately after the grand leap year party at Mrs. Moore's, which everybody attended, came a delightful little storm party at Col. D. G. Slaughter's, where dancing was the chief amusement and all were highly entertained by Mr. Slaughter's interesting family.

The wonder of the age at present in Crab Orchard is the phonograph. It takes in everybody and Saturday night an entertainment was held at the residence of D. G. Slaughter, when Mr. S. made a speech and sang, "Grasshopper Sitting on a Sweet Potato Vine," which was reproduced in fine style. Mr. J. C. Lewis and wife have charge of it.

The writer, accompanied by Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. W. R. Dillon and family, of Stanford, was permitted to enjoy the hospitality of Forest Home, at Dillon, on Friday and Saturday, where lots of fresh fish were on hand and of course were very much enjoyed. When you want to be grandly entertained, go to Dillon. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Davis, of that place, seem to be serenely happy and will soon be keeping house, when they will be pleased to entertain their friends in a pleasant way.

Mr. S. R. Bailey, of Mercer, spent several days with his brother, Mr. J. R. Bailey. Hon. D. B. Edmiston came home Saturday, looking perfectly natural. Mr. Holdam Stuart and Mr. Wm. McRoberts, of Pittsburg, spent Sunday in Crab Orchard. Mr. Stuart came home on a visit, Mr. McRoberts came to see Miss — well we will let him tell who, but we can compliment Mr. McRoberts on his taste. Mr. Burch, of Stanford, is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. S. A. Higgins. Mr. Egbert Fish, of Mt. Vernon, was here Friday. Mrs. J. F. Holdam went to Louisville Monday to hear Patti sing. She will be joined there by her sister, Mrs. F. A. Zeller, of No. 10 Lee, Ind., who will accompany her home. The wife of Mr. J. S. King is quite sick. Mr. Ike Herrin is out in the mountains buying up cattle. The Messrs. Godman, of Anderson, Ind., are here for the purpose of taking home some Jersey cattle.

—The Detroit Free Press says: "Gettin' elected once aint a sure sign of havin' the dose repeated."

—Mr. Z. F. Smith was here a few days last week taking data for a history of Garrard county, which will be published in the near future.

—The time for holding the special term of the Garrard Circuit Court is Wednesday, March 9th, instead of the 12th as stated a few days ago.

—The dog convention, in session in New York, is well attended and the delegates are behaving with the utmost propriety. Not a member has been known to take a drink, smoke a cigar, take a chew of tobacco or use curse words during the session and in this respect the convention is an improvement upon the average political convention of the day.

—Claims are about to be filed against poor little Chili for about $2,000,000 for the injuries received by the drunken American sailors who brought on the row that came near precipitating a war with a sister republic. One of the sailors claims over a hundred thousand dollars for injuries he claims to have received and others a like sum. The testimony of an American minister of the gospel who recently returned to Louisville, and who was in Chili at the time of the row, is that Commander Schley acted very imprudently in allowing so many of his men to go on shore when a revolution was in progress. His many friends will bear this in mind when contemplating a luxuriant garden which afforded a surplus.

—Berlin has been the scene of a tumultuous outbreak by the dissatisfied populace for several days, which from denunciation of their employers changed their cry for blood. A battle between the mob and the police resulted in a number of the latter being seriously wounded.

—Lillie Johnson, who was with Alice Mitchell when she cut Freda Ward's throat at Memphis, was admitted to bail in $10,000, though the court is clearly of the opinion from the evidence that she aided and abetted the crime. On account of her health alone she was admitted to bail.

—C. F. Brady, a Marion county swindler, was arrested as he was leaving the State on a warrant sworn out by a man whom he was trying to defraud, and ordered to jail, to stay till he paid the debt. He paid it that night and shipped to Ohio, leaving many sad creditors to mourn his departure.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Mrs. J. S. Hocker, wife of the president of the First National Bank of this place, died Saturday morning of tetanus. A world of sadness is conveyed in that short sentence, for the deceased was lovely, lovable and loved, not only by those near and dear to her, but by all who knew her, as the possessor of every trait that makes her sex the object of adoration. Young, with so much to live for, and with life so promising, her death comes with an overwhelming shock to us all and especially to the doting husband, fond parents and loving brother and sister, whose hearts bleed with an almost inconsolable sorrow. May the Lord temper the blow and finally re-unite the loved ones in a "land that is fairer than day" and where partings and sorrows are unknown.

Mrs. Hocker was Miss Sallie Denny, daughter of A. R. and Pauline Lackey Denney, of Garrard county, and they and a sister, Mrs. Mattie Duncan, and a brother, Mr. S. C. Denny, survive her. Reared in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, she embraced religion at an early age and joined the Presbyterian church, to which she was devotedly attached to the end. Liberally educated and highly accomplished, she was a great favorite in society and her company as a young lady was greatly sought. The man, whose very heart strings are now torn in grief at her loss, laid successful siege to her young heart and on the 27th of November, 1888, they were made one after God's holy ordinance, and no couple ever began life together with brighter hopes or fairer prospects. It was a love match, in which each seemed to increase in love for the other as the years went by. In due season a little child came to bless the union and then another little girl was added to the happy family, in which all was light and joy and love. But cruel death dispised this scene of earthly happiness and sent disease to mar and destroy the picture. Attacked first by rheumatism, which racked her every fibre, lockjaw followed and the end came after a week of suffering. She was unconscious for several days prior to her death, and was therefore unable to tell her friends that all was well with her soul, but they did not need this assurance. They know that their loved one is safe in the arms of her Redeemer. The funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church yesterday at 11 o'clock, by Rev. Ben Heim, who preached a touching discourse to a large assembly of sorrowing friends. Then the remains were conveyed to Buffalo Cemetery and gently laid away till the resurrection morn, when she will awake in His likeness.

The procession to the tomb was one of the largest ever seen here, the neighbors of the family being joined in large numbers by relatives and friends from Madison, Garrard, Boyle and other counties. The day was dark, rainy and dreary, adding additional gloom to the occasion.

—After a long illness of abscess of the lungs, William W. Eubanks, son of David Eubanks, died Sunday night in the 34th year of his age. A wife, who was a miss Hutchinson of Pulaski, a cousin of the Newlands here, and one child survived him. Mr. Eubanks was a member of the Christian church and was an honest and upright man. Just before he died he expressed both a willingness and an anxiety to go to the Father and exhorted his friends to live so as to meet him in triumph at His right hand.

—A correspondent writes that Judge Winston Bowman, of Casey, died on the 23d, aged 87. He served as county judge for a number of years and was looked upon as the father of his county financially, as he always guarded the interest of the county closer than any other man that ever held office in it. He was a good neighbor, a kind husband and a loving father. May he enjoy that happiness in Heaven where trouble and sorrow is never known.

—Judge Van B. Young, of the Superior Court, died Saturday from disease resulting from the grip. He was born in Bath, but was living at Mt. Sterling when elected to the position that he filled with fidelity and credit. He married a cousin of Mrs. R. C. Warren, of this place and she is a grand-daughter of the late Judge Robinson.

—Four Paris men, whose families had been vilified in the Blue Grass Blade, caught Moore, the editor, at Springvale Station and held him for sometime, threatening him with switches and otherwise terrorizing him. He begged the trainmen to protect him and said in pitiable tones: "Gentlemen, protect me! I am a lone man! I have a cold and nearly have pneumonia! I am not armed and have not even a penknife! Don't leave me here at the mercy of four men!" After holding him for an hour and a half, during which they laid the law down to him, the editor promised to mend his ways and not attack private character again. He then signed a paper apologizing for any wrong he had done the Paris people and was permitted to depart. It is said that Moore will move his paper to Cincinnati, as he can get no one at Lexington to print it.

LANCASter, GARRARD COUNTY.

The Detroit Free Press says: "Gettins' elected once aint a sure sign of havin' the dose repeated."

Mr. Z. F. Smith was here a few days last week taking data for a history of Garrard county, which will be published in the near future.

The time for holding the special term of the Garrard Circuit Court is Wednesday, March 9th, instead of the 12th as stated a few days ago.

The dog convention, in session in New York, is well attended and the delegates are behaving with the utmost propriety. Not a member has been known to take a drink, smoke a cigar, take a chew of tobacco or use cuss words during the session and in this respect the convention is an improvement upon the average political convention of the day.

Claims are about to be filed against poor little Chili for about $2,000,000 for the injuries received by the drunken American sailors, who brought on the row that came near precipitating a war with a sister republic. One of the sailors claims over a hundred thousand dollars for injuries he claims to have received and others a like sum. The testimony of an American minister of the gospel who recently returned to Louisville, and who was in Chili at the time of the row, is that Commander Schley acted very imprudently in allowing so many of his men to go on shore when a revolution was in progress. He says these men instigated the row and caused all the trouble.

A band of masked men went to the house of a handsome young widow in Vienna, tied her to her bed, saturated her with oil and burned her. It was to avenge another crime.

At Sodala, Mo., a negro highwayman held up and robbed a gentleman and his wife on their way home from a party and then tying the husband with a rope, outraged the woman.

Berlin has been the scene of a tumultuous outbreak by the dissatisfied populace for several days, which from denunciation of their employers changed their cry for blood. A battle between the mob and the police resulted in a number of the latter being seriously wounded.

Lillie Johnson, who was with Alice Mitchell when she cut Freda Ward's throat at Memphis, was admitted to bail in $10,000, though the court is clearly of the opinion from the evidence that she aided and abetted the crime. On account of her health alone she was admitted to bail.

C. F. Brady, a Marion county swindler, was arrested as he was leaving the State on a warrant sworn out by a man who was trying to defraud, and ordered to jail, to stay till he paid the debt. He paid it that night and shipped to Ohio, leaving many sad creditors to mourn his departure.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Mrs. J. S. Hocker, wife of the president of the First National Bank of this place, died Saturday morning of tetanus. A world of sadness is conveyed in that short sentence, for the deceased was lovely, lovable and loved, not only by those near and dear to her, but by all who knew her, as the possessor of every trait that makes her sex the object of adoration. Young, with so much to live for, and with life so promising, her death comes with an overwhelming shock to us all and especially to the doting husband, fond parents and loving brother and sister, whose hearts bleed with an almost inconsolable sorrow. May the Lord temper the blow and finally re-unite the loved ones in a land that is fairer than day" and where partings and sorrows are unknown.

Mrs. Hocker was Miss Sallie Denny, daughter of A. R. and Pauline Lackey Denny, of Garrard county, and they and a sister, Mrs. Mattie Duncan, and a brother, Mr. S. C. Denny, survive her. Born in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, she embraced religion at an early age and joined the Presbyterian church, to which she was devotedly attached to the end. Liberally educated and highly accomplished, she was a great favorite in society and her company as a young lady was greatly sought.

The man, whose very heart strings are now torn in grief at her loss, laid successful siege to her young heart and on the 27th of November, 1888, they were made one after God's holy ordinance, and no couple ever began life together with brighter hopes or fairer prospects. It was a love match, in which each seemed to increase in love for the other as the years went by. In due season a little child came to bless the union and then another little girl was added to the happy family, in which all was light and joy and love. But cruel death dispised this scene of earthly happiness and sent disease to mar and destroy the picture. Attacked first by rheumatism, which racked her every fibre, lockjaw followed and the end came after a week of suffering. She was unconscious for several days prior to her death, and was therefore unable to tell her friends that all was well with her soul, but they did not need this assurance. They knew that their loved one is safe in the arms of her Redeemer. The funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church yesterday at 11 o'clock, by Rev. Ben Heim, who preached a touching discourse to a large assembly of sorrowing friends. Then the remains were conveyed to Buffalo Cemetery and gently laid away till the resurrection morn, when she will awake in His likeness.

The procession to the tomb was one of the largest ever seen here, the neighbors of the family being joined in large numbers by relatives and friends from Madison, Garrard, Boyle and other counties. The day was dark, rainy and dreary, adding additional gloom to the occasion.

—After a long illness of abscess of the lungs, William W. Eubanks, son of David Eubanks, died Sunday night in the 34th year of his age. A wife, who was a miss Hutchinson, of Pulaski, a cousin of the Newlands here, and one child survived him. Mr. Eubanks was a member of the Christian church and was an honest and upright man. Just before he died he expressed both a willingness and an anxiety to go to the Father and exhorted his friends to live so as to meet him in triumph at His right hand.

—A correspondent writes that Judge Winston Bowman, of Casey, died on the 23d, aged 87. He served as county judge for a number of years and was looked upon as the father of his county financially, as he always guarded the interest of the county closer than any other man that ever held office in it. He was a good neighbor, a kind husband and a loving father. May he enjoy that happiness in Heaven where trouble and sorrow is never known.

Judge Van B. Young, of the Superior Court, died Saturday from disease resulting from the grip. He was born in Bath, but was living at Mt. Sterling when elected to the position that he filled with fidelity and credit. He married a cousin of Mrs. R. C. Warren, of this place and she is a grand-daughter of the late Judge Robinson.

Four Paris men, whose families had been vilified in the Blue Grass Blade, caught Moore, the editor, at Springvale Station and held him for sometime, threatening him with switches and otherwise terrorizing him. He begged the trainmen to protect him and said in pitiable tones: "Gentlemen, protect me. I am a lone man! I have a cold and nearly have pneumonia! I am not armed and have not even a penknife! Don't leave me here at the mercy of four men!" After holding him for an hour and a half, during which they laid the law down to him, the editor promised to mend his ways and not attack private character again. He then signed a paper apologizing for any wrong he had done the Paris people and was permitted to depart. It is said that Moore will move his paper to Cincinnati, as he can get no one at Lexington to print it.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - MARCH 1, 1892

W. P. WALTON.

COL. JOHNSON, of the Frankfort Capital, has George P. Rowell & Co., down fine when he says "They never did a favor to any newspaper publisher in the world without a 50 per cent. profit was in sight. Their newspaper directory comes dangerously near being a blackmailing affair, and its ratings of newspaper circulation are notoriously unjust. The paper paying the most money is apt to get the best rating." The INTERIOR JOURNAL has long since ceased to do business with the firm or to notice any of its numerous requests of various kinds. Its good or ill will cannot effect our business in the slightest particular. Nearly all advertising agents are skinflints, with whom we do not care to deal. There is but one little ad. from an advertising agent in this paper, and there will be none when its time is out.

THE Hill men, having as they think demonstrated in their snap judgment convention that their man is first and Cleveland nowhere in New York, begin to realize that they have "bit off more than they can chaw." Their action at Albany has not produced the enthusiasm for Hill they intended it should and feeling that it will take time and a great amount of persuasion to change the democratic heart from Cleveland to Hill, they are now begging for time and imploring that the other State conventions be put off as long as possible. Their indecent haste seems to have returned to plague them and their appeal should receive the same treatment as they gave the protest of the democrats who thought the mid-winter convention a mistake. Let it be promptly tabled.

HARVEY MYERS can always be depended upon to score a good point. Mr. Sims, chairman of the judiciary committee, inflated with self-importance, presented a resolution with numerous and sundry "whereas" that in the future no common, every day person should be permitted to address the House in committee of the whole. Mr. Myers did not fancy this effort of the created to put itself above the creators and in a telling speech showed that the people at all times should be heard by their representatives. He therefore moved to table the resolution and the motion prevailed, though the negative vote showed that there are quite a number of solons who think they are too good to be addressed by common folks.

The third time proves the charm for the law's vindication in the case of Lar-kin Lancaster, in Tennessee, convicted three times of the heinous crime of cutting off a negro's head, which he concealed in a sack and sunk in a creek. The court of appeals has each time until the last found some technicality on which to order a new trial. But no flaw could be found in the third conviction, though the negative vote showed that there are quite a number of solons who think they are too good to be addressed by common folks.

CONGRESSMAN KENDALL, of the 9th Kentucky district, gives utterance to this gibbering idiocy, which shows that if he is the nominee the democrats will lose nothing by letting him go: "I doubt very much," said he, "whether I, or any other democrat, can carry any district unless this House favors the free coinage bill, and its refusal to do so would take 20,000 votes from the democratic party in Kentucky and put the State in the doubtful list."

THE president is resting from his labors with his family at Virginia Beach, where they will be for a week. Having made his calling sure, his Presbyterian predelections are strong enough to make him feel that his election is also sure, but if the right kind of a man is chosen to carry the democratic standard, Benny will have to revise his confession of faith.

NOTHING was accomplished at the caucus of the democratic members of the House on the silver question and nothing will be accomplished in Congress except to divide the democracy more in the matter. Certain would-be leaders seem to prefer carrying a point to democratic success and they will yet repent of their action.

BRENT ALTSHELER, formerly an editorial writer on the Courier-Journal, and a well-equipped all-around journalist, is making the Louisville Sunday Star, which he recently purchased, shine with great effulgence and it will continue to grow in brightness till it reaches the first magnitude.

Efforts to instruct the republican delegates of Evansville for Harrison failed in all except one ward. That a prophet is not without honor save in his own country is again verified.

For sententious truth, this from the Louisville Times is peculiar: "All Hill democrats are not rascals, but scratch a rascally democrat and you find a Hill supporter every time."

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL is 20 years old to-day.

JUDGE J. SOULE SMITH seems to be master of the situation in Lexington. The Falcon is a pretty amiable bird until you rub its feathers the wrong way, then its powerful claws are truly great in their destructive power. It won't do to monkey with him.

GOV. MCCREARY is filling the libraries of his constituents with public documents more or less interesting. This office returns its thanks for a number of favors of late from its always attentive congressman.

UNDER the new constitution Gov. Brown will have the appointment of Judge Young's successor till the regular election next November. The court will not be abolished till Sept., 1894.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The House Committee on Circuit Courts reported favorably a bill permitting three-fourths or more of a jury to return a verdict in civil cases.

Both bodies of the Legislature took a junket to Lexington to see how the State College was coming on and thereby added to the great expense to the taxpayers by which the institution is maintained.

SENATOR J. S. Hargis, of Jackson, Breathitt county, representing the 34th district of the State, died suddenly in his room at Frankfort, from cholera morbus, caused by vegetables eaten at the Lexington banquet.

While the journal of the House was being read this morning, Mr. Halbert pulled off his boots and warmed his feet before the fire. If this kind of thing is tolerated the Legislature is liable to get itself in bad odor. — Lebanon Enterprise.

It is stated that Speaker Moore has declared he will never call ex-Speaker Myers to the chair because last year Speaker Myers never called Mr. Moore to the chair. We hardly believe that the Speaker is small enough to have made such a remark, even if he is little enough to conceive such intention.

The present House of Representatives is composed of 54 farmers, 18 lawyers, 6 merchants, 4 doctors, 3 teachers, 2 clerks, 2 tobacco dealers, 1 warehouseman, 1 contractor, 1 printer, 1 lumber dealer, 1 banker, 1 hotel keeper, 1 mechanic, 1 stock dealer, 1 journalist, 1 civil engineer and 1 liveryman. Politically it stands as follows: Democrats, 70; Republicans, 17, and Farmers' Alliance or People's Party, 13.

NEWSY NOTES.

J. Toms has been appointed postmaster at Lebascus, Casey county.

Dr. L. P. Walter, of Louisville, has been indicted at Bowling Green as a traveling empiric.

At Cairo, Ill., Ellen Orange was sentenced to the penitentiary for 35 years for killing her husband.

Fourteen lives were lost by the sinking of the British ship Forest King in the North Sea Saturday.

Dan Royalty, a fireman on the Louisville Southern, had both his legs cut off by his train at Harrodsburg.

At Little Valley, N. Y., Robert E. Marsh, of Buffalo, was kicked to death for making a remark about a young woman.

Gov. McKinney has signed the anti-gambling bill, which is meant to prevent bookmaking or betting on horse racing in Virginia.

A bar of gold bullion weighing 540 pounds was shipped from Phoenix, Ariz., from a mine in that vicinity. It is worth about $73,440.

At San Antonio, Tex., fire destroyed several business houses and the Daily Democrat office, causing a loss of $200,000; insurance $100,000.

Asel Miller, who killed his 16-year-old daughter in Edmonson county, in August, 1890, escaped from the Leitchfield jail by aid from without.

A large amount of mail matter was destroyed by fire in the depot of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad, at Cincinnati, late Saturday night.

George Price, a fireman on a K. C. passenger train, was killed near Cynthiany by the driving bar of the engine breaking and striking him on the head.

One of the new oil wells in Wayne showed a product of 30 barrels an hour in a 24-hour test made in the presence of many citizens of that county and Putlaski.

The alliance men of the 2d Georgia district formally decided, despite the action of the St. Louis convention, to remain within the lines of the democratic party.

The jury in the case of Samuel O'Posen Curtis, the actor, who killed a San Francisco policeman was discharged, standing two for acquittal to 10 for conviction.

A Cincinnati procurer operating in Louisville was caught and sent to the work-house for six months. The girls she had engaged were sent to the House of Correction.

The Majestic steamship has broken the record, having made the trip across the Atlantic in 5 days, 15 hours and 54 minutes. The average run per day was over 500 miles.

It took 150 men, who worked continuously 36 hours, to load the Indiana with food for the starving Russians. A cargo like that will fill a good many empty stomachs.

On an appeal and further evidence Judge Edwards, of Louisville, gave the baby claimed by Mrs. Ulrich to Amanda McCauley, the girl, who proved that she was its real mother.

A Huston cure for drunkenness is to be established at Lexington.

It is said that no less than 300 persons were drowned during the storm off Oporto Saturday.

Ex-Gov. Elias Conway, of Arkansas, was burned to death Sunday morning at Little Rock, where for years he had lived alone.

The large dry goods store of Smith, Gray & Co., in Brooklyn, burned. A business house adjoining, owned by Joseph Jefferson, was consumed. The total loss was about $600,000.

The New York, Pa., match works, valued at $50,000, have been sold to the Diamond Match Company for $200,000. The large price was paid in order to get the factory into the match trust.

It cost the government $1,997.98 to bury Congressman Houk, of Tennessee. The outrageous bill includes a large sum for photographs and a stenographer, while the casket is charged up at $1,400.

It is rumored that the L. & N. has purchased the Kentucky Midland, and will, at an early date, begin building it through Bourbon and Bath counties and on through the mountains to Pound Gap.

George S. Moore, the pig iron commission merchant and secretary of the Cumberland Valley Colliery Company, has suddenly left Louisville, with his finances in a very tangled if not in a criminal condition.

A combination of colors that would do service as a kaleidoscopic view was formed at Ironton, O., Tuesday, by the marriage of Pearly Brown, a scarlet woman, to Walter Green, a negro waiter. — Owensboro Inquirer.

Thomas Corbett was shot and killed in Louisville by Mike Brophy. The murder was apparently without provocation and Brophy is a man of notoriously bad character. He made his escape after the assassination.

The governor of Tennessee has pardoned a nondescript convict on the application of 13 physicians, who declared their inability to determine what sex the convict is, and that there is no suitable place to confine him, her or it.

Riley Douglass, one of the Middleboro policemen on trial for the lynching of Rassimus last summer, has been acquitted. The case against another of the alleged lynchers was dismissed and the other cases continued till next court.

The stockholders of the Pineville Company met in Louisville Saturday and ratified the deal by which all the holdings of the company are to be transferred to the Southern Land & Improvement Company, composed of Minneapolis capitalists.

W. J. Knott, who seduced under bogus marriages three of William McCauley's daughters, in Marion county, has been run off by the vigilantes. It is said that he is the father of the child which Mrs. Ulrich pained off on her husband as her own.

"Pull your d—n rope," was Dick Pullin's answer to the mob at Marshfield, Mo., that asked him if he was guilty of attaching a coupling pin to the neck of a child and throwing it in a pond. The command was obeyed and Pullin was soon a hideous corpse.

Luther Benson, the Hoosier apostle of temperance, is getting over a drunk at a Cincinnati sanitarium, and Bob Burdette, the great delineator of the humor of religion, was too drunk to fill an engagement to preach in Knoxville the other day. They all do it.

Pat Hanna was killed at Lexington Friday by Wm. Shields. Hanna went to collect the rent for his store-room and a row ensued, when Shields grabbed his shotgun and fired a load into Hanna's neck, carrying away the left jugular vein causing death in a few minutes.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

John H. Stuart, enrolling clerk of the House of Representatives, is to be married about the 15th of March, to Miss Josephine Duval, of Frankfort.

Wyoming, where the power of woman in affairs of government is greatest, has one divorce to every six marriages. This proportion is greater than that of any other State.—Christian Union.

A Bourbon jury gave Miss Lottie Sherman a $4,000 verdict against old man Bryant for breach of promise of marriage. She asked for $10,000 as the ancient individual was a big catch so far as money is concerned.

Rev. Otto Kuhr, of the Lutheran church, and Miss Annie Lenke, were married Sunday at the church at Ottenheim. A number of their friends from here attended the wedding and report it as quite a grand affair. The bridal party left yesterday for Salt Lake City.

Gen. Thomas A. Harris, of Pewee Valley, and Miss Ellen Peck, of Lexington, were married Thursday. The bride is a wealthy lady, very much the junior of the groom, who has seen service in two wars, the Mexican and the civil, distinguishing himself in both, and this is his third matrimonial alliance.

The Richmond Register thus describes Miss Mary Wilson Hume, who was, last week, married to Mr. Harvey Chenault: "She slowly approached the altar on the arm of her brother, Will, her beauty enhanced by the pure white of her snowy satin gown on train, the misty tulle veil completely enveloping her figure. The corsage was semi-decollete and edged with a heavy fall of rare point lace. She wore a necklace of violets set with diamonds, slippers of white satin, pearl ornamented and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. She made a lovely bride."

The president has sent a message to Congress recommending a liberal appropriation for the World's Fair.

NOTWITHSTANDING it is quite early in the season, base ball talk has already begun and the lovers of that sport here are already looking up some good players for the reliable INTERIOR JOURNAL club. There is some splendid timber here and a crack team will soon be organized.

MAYOR VANDEVEER asks us, to notify the public that on and after to day the law against stock of any kinds running at large on the streets will be enforced to the letter. The policemen have been ordered to run in every cow, hog or sheep found at large and hold them for costs or sale.

A HALF DOZEN or more kids from Rowland were fined $3 each for jumping on and off the cars down there, by Judge Varnon, Saturday. It is expressly against the law and an example ought to be made of some of the youngsters here before we have to chronicle a death or tell of one being maimed for life.

A SLIGHT mistake, Bro. Walton—our saloons each pay $800 a year, not $1,000. But what is done with the money has not been made public for two years—Somerset Reporter. It is very hard in all the towns to see what becomes of the money, though for the most part the councilmen are above suspicion of stealing it.

ALLEN ALDRIDGE, the Garrard county man who amused himself by racing his horse up and down the street here on last county court day, was fined $10 by Judge Carson. He had no regular trial, but the judge had him arrested at his home and not wanting to make a second visit here he wrote that tribunal asking what the damages were and on being notified, promptly remitted the above amount.

TOM CROW, colored, for throwing rocks at and laming the horse little Pole Parsons was riding, was fined $10 in Judge Carson's court yesterday. Not having the money he will work out the fine on the rock pile. Mr. Parsons tells us that a lot of half-grown negro boys constantly worry him and family by either calling them "possums" or talking about catching "possums" every time they see them and he is determined to put a stop to the annoyance.

A FEW months ago a slick fellow work ed a number of Stanford ladies on the picture-enlarging racket. He charged only a nominal price for the work, but required $1 down, the pictures to be returned in February. That month has now gone into the realms past and yet the picture man cometh not. It would surprise a number of husbands to know that their wives were caught, but we will not let them into the secret if the ladies will promise never to patronize such fakirs again.

THE L. & N. will run a limited excursion to Havana March 10, under the personal supervision of Mr. J. H. Milliken, district passenger agent of the L. & N. and Mr. Kemp Ridgely, passenger agent of the F. C. & P. The number of excursionists will be limited to 50 and the round-trip, which include meals and stateroom on the steamship, has been fixed at the low price of $75. The Louisville Truth, which has been there, says that no other trip can be made so cheaply or furnish so many sights and so much enjoyment.

It is more than likely that the suggestion of the revisory committee as to this judicial district will be adopted, and that hereafter Lincoln, Casey, Boyle, Mercer and Garrard will flock together. Judge Breckinridge, we learn, says he is a candidate for judge in any make up of the district, while our townsmen, Judge Saufley, will likewise be a candidate. John Sam Owlesly, Jr., of Lincoln, has determined to run for Commonwealth's attorney, Mr. Hughes, of Mercer, is also a candidate, and Robert Harding, of Boyle, will probably be. The other counties have not been heard from, but they will likely have a candidate or two each.

MR. J. W. HAYDEN is inconsolable over the poisoning of his fine dog by some cowardly enemy.

WANTED.—A position in grocery or dry goods store. Four years experience. Address "J." care Box 145, Stanford, Ky.

THE spring like weather ended in a rain Sunday and yesterday and the predictions for to day are fair with a moderate cold wave.

ISAAC SHELBY, Jr., was acquitted at Danville of the murder of Lingefelt at Junction City two years ago. The jury was out six hours. This was the second trial of the case.

Mr. C. D. Thompson, of the London & Liverpool & Globe Insurance Co., was here yesterday and settled in full, $100, with Mr. A. A. McKinney, who lost his stable by fire last week.

THERE is either great carelessness in the handling of the mail on this division now, or much incompetency. About half of it is carried by to be brought back from its trip to the mountains 12 hours late.

THE Leap Year party at the Hotel Coffey, last night, promised to be a splendid affair, notwithstanding the bad weather. The young ladies have spared no expense or trouble to make it a memorable event in social life and they know no such word as fail.

THE trouble at Altamont between the white and colored miners, on account of the appointment of a colored bank boss, threatened at one time to become serious, but a dispatch from there last evening, said that the miners had about all resumed work and the trouble was likely at an end.

EVERY democrat should make it a point to go to the primary election next Saturday. Mr. J. N. Menefee has no opposition for sheriff, but he is worthy of the honor of your vote. Mr. J. P. Bailey, who has made a faithful officer, asks your endorsement for circuit clerk, while Judge Stephen Burch, in the interest of his son, W. S. Burch, seeks your suffrages for the same office.

MR. JOHN BRIGHT is a great "relic seeker" and in his "private museum" many things of interest can be found. A recent acquisition is a piece of mulberry timber, the last piece of old Carpenter's Fort, which was destroyed some 80 years ago. He will convert it into a picture frame and place the picture of his mother in it. Mr. Bright also has a gourd which his grandfather used for a powder horn in the days long gone by.

MRS. COURTS has had an additional railing placed around the mail boxes in the post-office in order to keep from having to insult people who persist in going inside the delivery, after she has repeatedly asked them not to. It is positively forbidden by the rules of the department for any but sworn officers to go within the enclosure and it is hoped people will have enough regard for the proprieties to observe the rule, without having to be further forbidden.

ANY person who shall permit on his premises within the city, any loud and frequent or continued nightly barking, howling or yelping of any animal of the dog kind so as to annoy and disturb his neighbors, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding $10." That's the way Sec. 32 of the laws of the city of Stanford read and the first thing some people know it will be enforced against them. There is no earthly use of a town man keeping a worthless, barking dog except to annoy and worry his neighbors.

SHE SAID HIM NAY.—A correspondent of the Louisville Post seems to have caught on to the item in our last as the following is published in that paper under the head of "An Old Man's Love He Built a Pretty Cottage, but His Turtle Dove Flew to Another Nest." The Goshen neighborhood in this vicinity is the scene, and Mr. James Peoples, aged 66, and Miss Teeters, 22, the dramatic persons of a romance which has just ended in the discomfiture of the ancient lover. After steeling his heart against the fair sex for over three score years, Mr. Peoples, who is quite wealthy, met Miss Teeters last fall. She is winsome and very fair to look upon, and the old man fell desperately in love with her. She seemed to encourage his attentions, and finally when he had screwed his courage to the sticking point and asked her to be his wife, she demurely answered in the affirmative, but with a proviso. The house in which Mr. Peoples lived was as old as he is and even more shaky. If he would build a nice new cage for the little bird she would fly to it as soon as completed. The old man went at once to the task and with a light heart pushed the builders to their fastest limit. The handsome residence received its finishing touches this week and our hero carried the glad news to his charmer; but she failed to hear it with the enthusiasm in which it was told and then and there said to Mr. Peoples that she could not and would not be his wife. To his entreaties she turned a deaf ear, and he went away convinced of the uncertainty of things in general and of women in particular. The gossips of the neighborhood are enjoying the tid-bit with their usual avidity, but to the old man it is a most serious matter. The secret of the young lady's action is that she has found a lover more congenial in age and temperament whom she prefers to a man old enough to be her grand-father.

B. P. MARTIN says we did his wife an injustice in our statement of the case against her last week. She has borne a great deal from the Worman family and if the matter was to go over again he would not agree to a compromise of one cent and half the sheriff's costs. He says his wife is a sister of John Proctor, of Mt. Vernon, but killing a man in self defense does not make him notorious. If it does there are many notorious men, and we can see where he is right.

For jumping on and off the trains at Rowland, the following boys were fined $3 each and costs, which amounts to nearly as much more: Tom Martin, George Mundi, Ed Armstrong, George Carter, Bynum Carter, Leslie Daugherty, Walter Clymer, John Cooley, Jesse Carrier, Wm. Flanagan, Frank Ansley, Bob Mattingly, Dudley Hixon, Tim Huffman, Sam Cordier, Doc Lanahan, Nim Sinkhorn, Walter Carter, Craig Camden, Jim Worman, Oscar McPherson, Jim McPherson, Walter Killion, Hale Shanks and Bob Armstrong, on testimony furnished by R. N. Anderson, L. & N. detective. Ansley, Mattingly and Sinkhorn were acquitted, Shanks, Worman, Martin and Daugherty paid; Carter, Hixon, Huffman, Camden, Armstrong, McPherson, Cooley and Cordier were placed in jail and the others took the 10 days in which to pay. This is a pretty severe remedy, but it will be best for the boys in the long run and the example will be a good one.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

OF STANFORD, KY.

Capital Stock $200,000

Surplus 18,500

Attention of the public is invited to the fact that this is the only National Bank in Stanford.
Under the provisions of the National Bank Act depositors are secured not only in their principal stock, but in the full liability for all amounts equal to the stock, so that depositors of this institution are secured by a fund of $200,000.
Five sworn statements of the condition of the bank are made each year to the United States government and are filed in the office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, D. C., at stated times by government agents, thus securing additional and perfect safety to depositors.

This institution, originally established as the Deposit Bank of Stanford in 1852, was reorganized as the National Bank of Stanford in 1863 and became known as the First National Bank of Stanford in 1868, has had practically an uninterrupted existence of 32 years. It is better supplied now with facilities for transacting business promptly and liberally than ever before, long and honorably known as the headquarters of corporations, fiduciaries, banks and individuals respectively solicited.

The Directory of this Bank is composed of

T. J. Foster, of Stanford;

Forestus Read, Lincoln county;

J. W. Hayden, Lincoln;

(Delayed Letter)

—A distressing accident occurred on Brush Creek on last Wednesday. The clothes of a daughter of the Widow Sweggett, aged about 13, caught fire while kindling a fire in the cooking stove and no person being present but a little child, she ran to a spring near by and laid down in the water, but was burned so badly that she lingered with much suffering until Sunday, when she died.

—According to an appointment of the members of the 1st Kentucky cavalry regiment at their December meeting they met again in the circuit court room at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. The chairman, Dr. I. C. Dye, being called at the hour of meeting to see a very sick child, on motion of Col. Silas Adams, Dr. Hawkins Brown, of Hustonville, was called to the chair, and presided with vigor and much ability. The chairman having called for a report of the last meeting and the object of the present one, the secretary announced that a copy of the proceedings of the last meeting had not been preserved, but explained that its intention was to organize for the purpose of getting up a history of the 1st Kentucky Cavalry, and that the object of the present meeting was to celebrate the day, report the progress of the work and consult ways and means for its future advancement.

Upon call of the chairman, the one selected to write and compile the history, E. Tarrant, arose, and reported that he had written nearly 200 pages of MSS., embracing an account of the organization of the regiment and about eight months' service and gave official and other documents he had consulted, and also reported letters and assistance received from the following officers and men: Maj. G. W. Drye and Lt. Vincent Peyton, Company B; Lt. J. E. Chilton, Company C; Lt. Warren Lamme, Company D; Sgt. Monroe Godbey, Company F; Capt. John Smith, Lt. Thomas J. Graves, Privates John A. Gillespie and Cornelius Vanoy, Company I; Capt. Phil Roberts and N. D. Burns, Company K.

—Mr. Muir, of Nicholaville, who has killed 200 sheep killing dogs, should be placed in charge of a State pound and paid a handsome salary.—C. J.

—Stith & Johnson, Mt. Sterling, own a steer 34 months old that is 7 feet high, 11 feet in length, measures 12 feet around the girth and weighs 3,680 pounds.

—W. P. Givens has sold to Cogar, of Danville, 35,000 pounds of hemp at $4.50. He is also delivering 350 barrels of corn to the Danville Mills at $2 at the crib.

—The largest sales for one day ever made on the tobacco brakes in Louisville were made one day last week, when 1,000 hogsheads were disposed of at over $90,000.

—Beriah McGoffin has sold the "Meadows," which embraces 157 acres, including a handsome residence and lawn, to G. M. Asher, for $50,000 cash. It lies near Lexington.

—The four leading dairy breeds of cows in the United States, as shown by the registers, number as follows: Holsteins, 19,556; Ayrshires, 10,333; Jerseys, 59,000; Guernseys 3,973.

—Dr. Brown now made an interesting speech and offered very sensible suggestions.

—Col. Adams then delivered a very eloquent address on the day we celebrate, the daring deeds of the 1st Kentucky Cavalry on its many fields of battle and the importance of handing down its acts of patriotism and heroism to its posterity of 100 years hence.

—The subject of ways and means was now brought before the meeting. The financial secretary, W. T. Humphrey, announced that a strict account of all funds advanced to pay expenses would be kept and after the work was printed and sold and all expenses paid, the amount paid by each would be refunded. He also announced that $35 or $40 would pay necessary demands till June court. Dr. Brown readily announced his willingness to liquidate that amount, and did so.

—The chairman then directed the financial secretary to take the names and the amounts of those wishing to contribute. In a few minutes $75 was announced as subscribed.

On motion of Col. Adams it was decided to meet again the first day of June circuit court.

—The chairman ordered that E. Tarrant at the next meeting make a tabulated report of progress, needs and wants of the business.

—On motion of Col. Silas Adams, a copy of these proceedings was ordered to be sent to the INTERIOR JOURNAL, Somerset Reporter, Mountain Echo, Albany Banner and Central Record.

The meeting then adjourned.

H. Brown, Chmn.
